2005 AAAAI Allied Health Travel Scholarship
Submission Deadline: Application process completed

The 2005 AAAAI Travel Scholarships are made possible by a generous grant from the David and Dorothy Merksamer Fund.

The American Academy of Allergy Asthma and Immunology is pleased to announce the 2005 AAAAI Allied Health Travel Scholarship.

This program will provide $750 scholarships in reimbursed expenses for each of the four best abstracts submitted by AAAAI allied health members and accepted for presentation at the 61st AAAAI Annual Meeting, in San Antonio, TX, March 18-22. The scholarship will reimburse actual travel and hotel expenses incurred by the abstract presenter, up to a limit of $750 and can not be used to reimburse for rental cars or spouse expenses.

Abstracts will be judged by the AAAAI abstract subcommittee for the novelty of their research toward the advancement of allergy, asthma and immunology and optimal patient care.

Applicants must meet the following criteria:

- 1) The abstract first author must be an AAAAI allied health member and has maintained his/her membership in good standing since inception.
- 2) The allied health member must have conducted the vast majority of the abstract-related work
- 3) The abstract must be submitted according to AAAAI policies and procedures by September 17, 2004

If you and the abstract you are submitting for the 61st AAAAI Annual Meeting are eligible for these scholarships, please complete the information requested on this form and fax or mail it noting the ‘control number’ of your submitted abstract to:

AAAAI Allied Health Abstract Awards, 555 East Wells Street, 11th Floor, Milwaukee, WI 53202-3823
